SCOTTISH RITE CATHEDRAL · INDIANAPOLIS, INDIANA
Built 1927 through 1929  Cost $2,500,000
Architect-George Schreiber
Dedicated September 20, 1929
Planning began in 1915 but was delayed by World War I. In 1925 Local Architect, George Schreiber was selected for the project over seven other firms.

Schreiber, an emigrant from Germany, had returned to his Homeland to study Gothic Architecture, then was two years planning the building.
Ground was broken on May 7, 1927 and the final stone laid February 26, 1929. Dedicated on September 26, 1929 the total cost was nearly $2,500,000 which was liquidated May 1, 1951.

The most beautiful and largest for the sole use of freemasons. This is appropriate as this is THE largest Valley in the World.

Recent improvements in the building include Handicap compliance as well as an elevator to access to all levels. For many years the building planning was in the hands of H. Roll McLaughlin, FAIA and Harry Hunter, FAIA.
North West Corner North & Meridian St. ca. 1922
December 27, 1927
April 22, 1928
From North and Meridian Street ca. 2018
View from South
North Street Entrance
Two of 32 Degrees
Auditorium
Ballroom
CREDITS

Rodney Mann 33• Executive Director
Fred Kortepeter 33• Historian
Matt McCormack Photographs
Debi Lawton Facilitator
H. Roll McLaughlin 33• Inspiration
Henry Meier 33• Coordinator